

Stull and Lee Incorporated
architecture · planning

KITCHEN RENOVATION

BROOKLINE, MA

Designed for a busy executive who enjoys hosting small dinner parties for friends and colleagues, this efficient open kitchen features a generous peninsula with seating allowing for extended conversation during meal preparation.

In addition to a ceiling height wine cubby and an “appliance garage” for her mixers, food processors and the like, an inconspicuous series of vertical “his and her” mail slots offer an out of the way place to curb the daily deluge of mail, magazines and catalogs. The builders were The Lee Kimball Company of Reading, MA

