

Stull and Lee Incorporated
architecture • planning

DEWITT COMMUNITY CENTER

BOSTON , MASSACHUSETTS

The Dewitt Community Center is a 22,000 s.f. mixed use facility that provides a variety of services and venues for Lower Roxbury Residents.

The new building commissioned by the Madison Park Community Development Corporation features a variety of classroom and meeting spaces including an internet cafe and facilities for after school care.

The Center also houses MPDC's management functions and tenant services offices. A richly landscaped area next to the Center is a balance of planted and paved areas anticipated to host a variety of activities including art, exhibits, dance classes and the like.

